

The English-Speaking Union of Malta – Media Release

Discover Your Voice

Further to its success in training Sixth Form students in the art of debating and public speaking, the English Speaking Union of Malta is proud to announce the imminent launch of their 'Discover Your Voice' tutoring sessions. This educational programme forms part of the ESU's international drive to nurture effective communication skills throughout the world.

This year, younger students will be targeted in an attempt to foster the orators of future generations. The techniques used in the programme will help advance the elocutionary abilities of all students and develop their confidence in themselves. Each session, given by specially-trained ESU tutors, will instruct the students on how to effectively speak in public through hands-on workshops.

A maximum of four grades, starting from Form 1 to Form 4, in eight schools will benefit from this course, which will culminate in a Public Speaking Soirée to be held in December. Applications for this programme will only be accepted by schools. The sessions, which will commence this October, are open to private, Church and state schools upon application.

These workshops are being organised under the patronage of the Ministry of Education and Employment.

For more information, or to apply as a school, kindly contact Yvette Micallef on 79948866 or on info@esumalta.org by no later than 20 September, 2012.

– ENDS –

The English-Speaking Union of Malta – Media Release

Media inquiries:

Malcolm J Naudi
info@mjncommunications.com

Yvette Micallef
info@esumalta.org